

Patrick O'Dea

Irish Set Dance

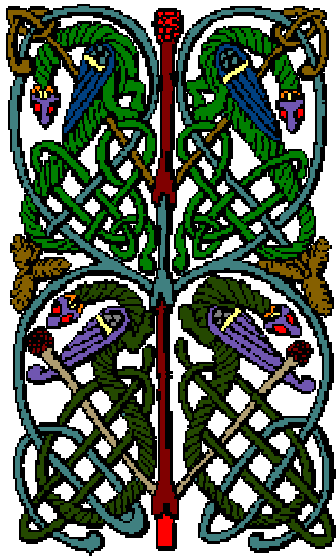

Workshop & Ceili

Feb 11th & 12th
Bellevue & Des Moines WA

Patrick O'Dea of Roscommon Ireland: will be in Seattle for 2 days to teach traditional Irish Set Dances & battering footwork. "Sets" are lively Irish square dances. He will also be the caller at Saturday's ceili (a dance with live Irish music). Patrick has taught throuout Europe, Japan, Ireland, the US, and is a regular instructor at the Willie Clancy Summer Festival in Ireland. Beginners are encouraged to join the fun. His vast experience will get your feet moving in the right direction to learn the true Irish style of set dancing, with a healthy dose of humor added in. Patrick is highly regarded for his Munster style footwork & keeps the old traditions alive by generously passing steps on.
